A Tall Smokostack as a Factor in a Street-rallway's Prosperity -The Triangular, War Rages.

By Telegraph to The Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.-[Special.] The Evening Post has another chapter on electric railway affairs this evening under the following headlines: "The Battle Rages-Electric and Rolling Mill Fight Spreads-Cable Company After Their Enemy's Scalp-Senator Fair and Mr. Alvord Leave Town-

He is at the Palace Hotel now, where he has been in close consultation with prominent San Francisco cable railway people. The cable railway people are nterested in the fight because they have no love for any of the electric companies. The new law gives the under the large rights of eminent dofrom condemning the property of cable railway companies and using the tracks for electric cars, should the exigencies arise when the electric companies thought they needed these roads. will result in your having considerable trade with the electric company here, and also with the Pacific Rolling Mill at San Francisco, provided your work is equal of others. The Pacific Rolling Mill is a good company for you to cultivate. They are already doing a good deal in the way of building electric roads. The course of your agents, whether intended or not, has been very trying to our electric people.

First, when they went before the Legislature to get electricity authorized as a motor for street cars they had no pull and could do them no good, and the encouragement they have given to the Topeka people, who failed in their movement here, has made it a very anuoying, expensive and perplexing transaction, but with a new agent, that understands himself, those things will be quickly forgotten.

They expect to start their first car here today or tomorrow. Utthout question it is the finest built electric road so far in the land. Their power-house is an immense affair, the smokestack of which is the most extensive west of Chicago, being 175 feet high. It is possible that with your hearty copperation we might do something toward helping you to the furnishing of equipment. They ought to start up, within the next sixty or ninety days, twenty or thirty miles more of single track, which is so situated that they will need a large number of cars. umber of cars.
Very respectfully,
John M. C. Marble. " 'Smoke-stack — smoke-stacks be d-d' said a prominent rolling-mill man. 'Does he think high smokestacks will place bonds or result in dividends?' "It would be still more interesting if the answer which Mr. Rees, of the Edison Company, sent to Brer Marble were published; but Mr. Marble regards it as appertaining to himself only.

FAIR'S EYESIGHT RESTORED, "The terrible point of the whole thing is that the Los Angeles Electric Company's bonds were all placed before the fight arose. Strict orders have been given in prominent commercial circles to let electric railway bonds of all kinds alone for a few days until they cool off a little. Meantime ex-Senator Fair's eyesight is rejuvenated so much that he needs no glasses. He can read an electric-road bond or contract at a focal distance of ten feet, or smell the motors a mile away."

Both cable main given to such corporations, there and electric roads made contracts with would be nothing to prevent them the Pacific Rolling Mill for machinery and gave bonds in part payment therefor. It is stated that these roads are competitors, and the tracks run paral-lel for several miles, and as a result of the competition the companies would not be able to pay interest on the bonds. Senator Fair is now president of the Pacific Rolling Mills and his friends say he intends to cancel all contracts with the electric railway and that the cable company will buy it in.

The president of the California Bank today said: "I made those contracts today said: "I made those contracts with the electric company, and I considered that their money was good. We have had no meeting to cancel the contracts; also, Senator Fair did insist, and very properly, that the electric company should cut its bonds down to $1,000,000 from $2.500,000. That was a proper measure and was carried out. As to the cancellation of the contracts that is a matter which is the contracts.

By Telegraph to The Times:

Both armies rested today to get themceda's line of defense yesterday was strongly fortified and was under range of Fort Callao's guns. Many of his troops are raw recruits, but there is a leaven of veterans among them. Time after time the rebels dashed against the lines of government troops, only to be repulsed with great bloodshed, and repeated attacks were made with no decided advantage to either side.

A PRACTICAL TRUCE. "Under cover of a flag of truce the ambulance and hospital corps were busy during the night caring for the wounded. V. hen morning broke it was discovered that neither party was in position to assume the offensive, and a practical truce today with no fighting has been the result.

"Neither party has been idle during the day. Scouting parties from the insurgent army have been scouring the country for supplies, and one of them cut the railroad to Santiago at Salto. The government forces have been strengthening their lines and maneuvering to get into a position which will preclude any successful attempt on the part of the enemy to get into the rear of the city of Valparaiso.

THE INSURGENT PLAN. "It is generally believed that Gen. Canto, commander of the rebels, will attempt a flank movement when he resumes operations, and this the Balmacedaists are attempting to frustrate. In face of an army equal in valor, as well armed and equipped, and at least equal if not superior in numbers, to force the line of forts with their heavy guns manned by expert and veteran gunners, defending Valparaiso from the northeast, consisting of forts Callao, Podetto, Andes and Valparaiso, is a task to daunt the most confident genthe contracts, that is a matter which is that if he can get his heavy guns on yet to be determined."

TROUBLE BREWING.

LIVELY TIMES AHEAD FOR WORLD'S FAIR MANAGERS.

The Fight between the Commissloners and Directory over Horticultural Chief Growing Very Bitter.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 .- [By the Associated Press. | There is apparently trouble growing up again between the National Commission of the World's Fair and the local directory, and lively times are looked for when the National Commission meets a week from tomorrow. The first row will undoubtedly develop when Director-General Davis reports to the commission that practically nothing has been done in the departments of horticulture and liberal arts. When the commissioners ask what is the cause of delay they will be told that the directors have rejected three men in succession who have been nominated for horticultural chief, and the fourth nomination, Mr. Samuels of Kentucky, has been hung up until the directors determine whether it will be safe to reject him also.

The local board is understood to have declared that it will have a California man for the place, preferably

To force him to name Mr. Shorb the directors may reject all other nominations for the office. With all this before them the commissioners will probably call upon the missioners will probably call upon the directors to explain why they are delaying the horticultural department by failure to ratify the appointment of a chief. If a satisfactory answer is not given the commission has it in its power to make things very unpleasant for the local beard and probably would do so. Commissioner de Young says the manufacturers' and liberal arts build-ing is so arranged that it will not contain room enough for the departments that are to go under its roof. The Classification Committee accepted De-Young's views and passed a resolution indorsing his figures and recommending that the commission ask for another building in which to place the liberal arts and ethnology exhibits.

Eighty-eight Persons Still Missing and Probably Dead.

The Work of Clearing Away the Debris Prosecuted Night and Day-More About the Collapsed Building.

By Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, Aug. 24.- [By the Associated Press. | The work of delving for the dead in the ruins of Park place continued throughout the night, during

Later in the day the body of Ernat H. Shaddock of Brooklyn was found. An Italian working in the ruins was seen to take something from the body of a victim: A silver watch was found upon him which he admitted taking. The police took him to the station, and on the way he narrowly escaped lynching. He was held for trial. At the morgue there is a con-stant stream of people looking for their friends or relations among the dead. A sickening odor from the bodies pervades the atmosphere. It is now thought the faulty construction of the building was the cause of the accident. Six more bodies were found in the ruins at 3 o'clock, five of which are those of women or girls and one that those of women or girls and one that of a boy. They were identified by friends. District Attorney Nichols is considering the question of indicting the person or persons responsible for the disaster. Two more bodies were recovered at 11 o'clock. But little progress was made in the excavation tonight. At midnight a total of thirty-four bodies had been recovered. Of these, twenty are identified. The total number reported missing is eighty-eight. Afternoon Session.

The Council met at 2 o'clock with President Bonsall in the chair and a quorum present.

The Street Superintendent presented the following report, which was read, and the various recommendations referred to the proper committees:

THE STREET SUPERINTENDENT DECLARES HIMSELF.

To the honorable the Council, city of Los Angeles: In the matter contained in the Farmer.

orders of the Council under date of August ALMOST A TRAGEDY.

orders of the Council under date of August 10, 1891, you instructed me to carry out the petition of the City Water Company in reference to the flushing of sewers; i.e., to do all sewer flushing at night.

Let me say to your honorable body, that although you may consider that a wise move toward "retrenchment," I fail to see the matter in that light. The majority of the members of your honorable body having had vast experience in public works of all kinds, and especially in the construction of sewers, you will certainly agree with me our mains in the city, is much greater during the day than at night, and that it is better to flush the sewers in the day time when practicable. This is out of the question if we are supposed to flush by the use of the continued travel on the streets and the street cars which are now running over the lines of our principal sewers, making it impossible to use the hose on these streets. We now have in the city something over the lines of our principal sewers, making it impossible to use the hose on these streets and the street cars which are not the city something over the lines of our principal sewers, making it impossible to use the hose on these streets and the street cars which are not all the sewers are night it will require a travel of more properly one to the city of the carry the hose around from place to place for at least three men at 43 per. day, or rather night, would have to lay off to carry the hose around from place to place for at least three fourths of the night at an expense of $2 per foot, or about $2000, together with every night in the week, three of the carry the hose around from place to place for at least three fourths of the night at an $2000 to start with, besides the daily expense to for a court should be a court of the court of kour plans will require an expenditure of 2000 to teart with, besides the daily excessed of the construction of the sewers, and are kept without any expense to the city, excepting the weekly inspection by the forement of sewers. These flushtanks flush without having a man there to turn on the water and to see that no one injured by falling into the manhole.

It certainly looks as though your honorable body to allow me the appointment of an ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were working upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which out knowing what you were voting upon, and ordering me to do certain things which the which were to do things to the appointment of an additional man in my office so that I could be in such a condition who have failed to Investigate, or to even make any report on the matter. Almost every member of the Council has expressed himself as including the propers of the propers of circumstances, and the wife went to bed and iectured her husband during the greater part of the night. Of course he slept atter a while, but she did not close her eyes until daylight, as is an excited woman's custom, and when the husband rose he was careful not to wake her. He did not want the lecture dose repeated on an empty stomach, so he slipped out of the house and made his way down town to his business place. He had not been there long when a neighbor rushed in and informed him that his wife had committed suicide. This was all he knew, and as it threw no light on the matter, I cast about for some one else and my eyes rested on a little ten-year-old girl, who had listened to the story without her father's knowledge. As soon as he turned his back I called the child to one side and soon discovered that her mother took nothing after she awoke, as the little girl was by her side all the while.

"This threw a new light on the subject, and I became convinced that the old-time mystery, hysteria was at the botton of The City Attorney presented his weekly report, and the ordinance of intention for the opening and widening of Los Angeles street, between Seventh and Washington streets, was read, and, after some discussion, passed under suspension of the rules. In regard to the park boundaries, the City Attorney reported that the only way by which they can be determined is by an actual survey by the City Engineer. Received and filed.

On motion A. E. Davis was given a quit claim deed to a small piece of ground on Walnut street, East Los Angeles, to correct a former error.

HILL WATER SUPPLY.

Walnut street, East Los Angeles, to correct a former error.

The report of the special committee on the hill water supply was read, and referred to Committee of the Whole, only Councilman Bonsall and Innes voting in the negative.

Capt. A. W. Barrett appeared before the Council and applied for permission to temporarily change the poles on certain streets so as to use electricity on the Central avenue line, until such time as the company can get the "alance of the road in peration. On motion the company was given the right to maintain the poles as saked for, they to remove the same at any time on sixty days' notice being given by the Council.

WESTERN UNION FRANCHISE. time on sixty days' notice being given by the Council.

WESTERN UNION FRANCHISE.

A representative of the Western Union Telegraph Company appeared before the Council and asked for a frunchise for erecting poles, etc. The gentleman said he could not understand why such was the case, but no ordinance giving the company the privilege of erecting poles had ever been passed. The matter was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The City Engineer reported that Breed street should have cobble grades, as the grade was more than one in one hundred feet. On motion the City Clerk was instructed to notify the bondsmen that the contractor had not fulfilled his contract.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

The City Engineer reported that the proposed change of the grade of Bonnie Brae street between First and Arnold streets, is impracticable unless a side street is connect.

TRIAL BY JURY.

An Important Decision by Judge Smith.

POLICE COURTS SUSTAINED.

Violators of City Ordinances Not Entitled to Trial by Jury-Conourring Opinions by the Other Judges.

Judge Smith yesterday handed down his opinion, affirming the judgment of the Police Court in the cases of Charles Friese and Fred Czarski, two saloon-keepers, who were arrested, convicted and fined a short time ago for violating the Sunday closing ordinance. As these were practically "test" cases, a number of others of identically the same nature being dependent upon them this decision, which is concurred in by all the other judges, is of no little importance and will doubtless be read with a good deal of interest. The following is the full text

JUDGE SMITH'S OPINION. This is a prosecution under a city ordi-nance known as the Sunday-closing ordi-

The defendant was convicted and fined, from which judgment an appeal was taken. Counsel for defendants urge three points in their briefs: First, that defendant was denied a trial by jury; second, that pinin-tiff did not make proof of the ordinance under which he was prosecuted; third, that the ordinance is invalid, as being partial, unfair and special.

First—Was defendant entitled to a jury First—Was defendant entitled to a jury trial? Our Constitution provides that "The right of trial by jury shall be secured to all and remain inviolate." (See art. 1, sec. 7. Censt.) This means the right as it existed at the adoption of the constitution; and in the case of the People vs. Powell (87 Cal., R. 348) cur Supreme Court heid that under our Constitution the right of jury trial is the same as it existed at common law, so that if we can ascertain what that right was at common law, the problem is easily solved. Blackstone (vol. 11, page 281) enumerates a large class of offenses triable by magistrate where jury was denied; and besides the province he characterizes them as disorderly offenses, and I think it clear that at common law no indictment was ever found for an offense of this nature.

indictment was ever found for an offense of this nature.

In our American jurisprudence the test of this right of trial by jury has been this. Is the offense made such by the general statutes of the State? And in our State, and in States where there is a similar constitutional provision to our own, was the offense indictable or triable by jury at common law? (See Dillea Mun. Cor., see, 361 to 367.) These clearly sustain the position, with a long list of authorities, that offenses under municipal ordinances that are not offenses by the general laws of the State are not triable by jury, and there can be no doubt of the position that the Legislature may create new offenses not indictable at common law, and provide that they may be tried without the intervention of a jury, and not invade any constitutional right. (For a well-digested case on this subject see Byers & Davis vs. Commonwealth, 42 Peun., 89.)

In the case at bar it is purely a police regulation for the good order of the city. It is not a statutory offense, nor is it an offense indict ble at common law. Besides, the general statutes of the State provide that police magistrates may, where trial by jury is not secured by the Constitution, proceed to judgment in the first instance without a jury. (S e Pol. Code, sec. 4424, sub. 5.) So that I am of the opinion that there was no error in denying the defendant a jury trial.

Second—Was it incumbent on plaintiff to make proof of the ordinance? Without doubt the law of all the States is, unless by some special provision it is otherwise provided, that the city ordinance must be proved in prosecutions under them. This proposition is too plain for argument; but it is claimed by the plaintiff that the charter in section 295 relieves it from the necessity of such proof; and that is the question, for if that section does not, then they have not made out a case.

for if that section does not, then they have not made out a case.

That section provides that "In all prosecutions for violation of any city ordinance, rule or other regulation of said authorities . . . it shall be unnecessary to plead the contents of the same, but the Court . . shall take judicial notice of such ordinance . . . and of the contents thereof."

incation intended, and cite city of Napa's Esterby, 61 Cai., in support of their position.

The Napa charter contains no provision like our own, but merely that "a copy of such ordinance published or purporting to have been published by authority in the official newspaper of the city, shall be prima facle evidence that such ordinance has been regularly and legally passed and authenticated, and that the provisions of the ordinance are as published by the board of trustees at the date when said publication purports to have been made." Thus providing what shall be considered proof, etc. But in our charter all forms of proof are dispensed with, and the court shall take judicial notice of a fact is to recognize it in all its parts, and everything necessary to constitute it whole and complete; so that if this provision of the charter has the force of law, it must be considered as to the corporate limits, of the same binding force and effect in our courts as public statutes.

The third objection is that the ordinance is partial, unfair and special, etc. It had to do with the liquor traffic, and only those who conduct saloons and like piaces. In a sense this is speaid, that if the city can license them, it can regulate their hours, and therefore we think this last position is not tenable.

People vs. Czarske—This case is submitteed on same briefs, and a like order will be entered as above.

B. N. SMITH, Judge.

Concurring opinion was handed down by Judge Shaw:

in this case. In view of the practical importance of the question, however, I deem it proper to state more precisely the point secied upon the question of the right to a trial by jury.

This case is governed by the provisions of the act of 1885, commonly known as the Whitney Act, which has been substantially re-enacted in 1891. (See Acts 1891, 292.) Section 5 of that act in substance, provides that the city justices, while acting as judges of the police courts, may proceed to judgement in the first instance without a jury in cases of violations of the criminal law of the State "in which trial by jury is not secured by the Constitution of the State."

This section dees not apply to any courts except police courts in cities, and therefore except police courts in cities, and therefore the question whether the defendant has a right to a trial by jury in, criminal cases before a justice of the peace or a city record er's court, is not involved in this decision, and is not decided.

The right to a trial by jury in those courts is governed by the provisions of the Penal Code in addition to the constitutional guarantee, whereas, in the police court the right is governed by the constitutional provision alone. The language of the Penal Code providing for jury trials is much broader than that of the Constitution.

With reference to the constitutional provision criminal cases may be classified as follows:

ollows:
First-Misdemeanors under the Penal Code
n which, at common law, the defendant was entitled as of right to a trial by jury. Second—Offenses classed as misdemean ors by the Penal Code, which are not offen

Second—Offenses classed as misdemeanors by the Penal Code, which are not offenses at common law.

Third—Offenses classed as misdemeanors by the Penal Code which were offenses at common law, the defendant was not entitled as of right to a trial by jury.

Fourth—Offenses not mentioned in the Penal Code, but made offenses by city ordinances, and which were offenses at common law and triable under that law by a jury as of right.

Fifth—Criminal prosecution for offenses not mentioned in the Penal Code, but made offenses by city ordinances, which were either not offenses at common law or not triable by jury as of right under that law.

The case now decided comes within the fifth class, and this decision is that in those cases, in trials in the Police Courts of this city, the defendant is not entitled to a trial by jury as of right. This decision does not apply to cases of the other classes, nor to trials other than in said Police Courts, and as to the right of trial by jury in those cases nothing is decided. LUCIEN SHAW, August 21, 1891.

I cencur in the foregoing decision.

J. W. McKikley, Judge.

W.P. WADE, Judge.

I concur in the foregoing opinions on the subject of trial by jury, but express no opinion on the other points involved.

HILL WATER SUPPLY.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COUN-CILMANIC COMMITTEE.

The Issue of $250,000 Bonds Rec ommended to Purchase the Present Plant and Make Improvements.

The people of the hill districts intend to keep up the agitation over the inadequate water supply of that section until something is done to afford them permanent relief. As has been stated, the matter was taken before the Council, and by that body eferred to a special committee consisting These gentlemen have given a great deal of on to the subject, and yesterday subnitted the following report: To the honorable the City Council— GENTLEMEN: Your special committee to whom was referred the subject of better water facilities for that portion of the city commonly referred to as "the hill district," beg leave to submit the following: The present condition of affairs is an out-rage on the people and the fair name of our rage on the people and the fair name of our city from a sanitary, legal, moral, and every other point of view.

The water supplied is unfit for domestic use and the service positively inadequate in all recreed.

The water supplied is unfit for domestic use and the service positively inadequate in all respects.

The city itself owns, the water, which is fairly good when first taken, (the contamination arising from its being conducted through cattle corrais and fields in an open ditch,) and we believe the only solution of the vexed question to be for the city to own water works and give an efficient service.

The time will soon arrive when our people will be called upon to decide this question, not only for the hill district, but for the entire city, by the expiration of its present lease with the City Water Company.

We believe that now is the opportune time to act, and that the city should at once construct such water works on the hills as will be the beginning, a nucleus, and subsequently a part of a general system that will supply the entire city.

If the city of Los Angeles continues a policy of "masterly inactivity" in regard to this question and allow the time to elanse, we will be suddenly brought face to face with the proposition of purchasing the works of the City Water Company, under our contract, for perhaps several million dollars. or of continuing an undesirable lease.

Nature has favored Los Angeles with

she contents of the same but the Court

. shall take judicial notice of such ordinance . and of the contents thereof."

It is contended by defendant that this is in conflict with section 1875, C. C. P., and 1918 same code, division 5.

Section 1875 says: "Courts take judicial notice of the following facts: (and then follows a list of matters and things of which courts take judicial notice of the following facts: (and then follows a list of matters and things of which courts take judicial notice) that is, it is no necessary to prove same, etc.; and municipal ordinances are not in such list. But may not a subsequent law be enacted extending this list? And if so, how can it be said that an important question to be decided and ordinances are subject. Subsection 5.5 per list of the following another subject? It certainly cannot be.

Sub-section 5 of section 1918, C. C. P., provides that acts of municipal corporations may be proved by copy, certified by the legal keeper, or by printed book, etc. but this does not preclude other modes of proof that might be legal, as the original papers, instead of copies, etc., so that 'may' cannot be.

But counsel for defendant insist that wen admitting the provisions of sec. 225 of charter to be enforced, attil it does not cover the case, but that it is the contents of the corporations, or conflict with a law providing that country shall take judicial notice of same.

The following nine jurors having been accepted by both sides, were duly sworn to try the case, and placed in the custody of the Sheriff: Jares Booth, C. D. Clapp, G. W. Hazard, R. N. Martin, S. L. Keller, G. R. Shipway, M. Meyer, S. I. Mayo and G. D. Compton.

In this opinion, which consists of twelve pages of closely typewritten matter, the court reviews "the law of the case" at considerable length; and dwells particularly upon the question of "astensible agency."

The case, which was brought to declare a trust deed for a piece of property as a mortgage and to foreclose the same, was tried some two years ago, appealed to the Supreme Court and remanded for a new trial, and the probabilities are that if will again be taken to the court of last resort.

The papers in the case of Mollie Lafferty, administratix, against the Southern Pacific Company, were received from the Superior Court of Fresno county, for filing in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, the matter having been transferred. ENTERED AT LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER

TIMES about a week ago, says: "About twenty years ago there was first flashed in current literature, the signal for the coming of the great American novel and the great American play. The light is still burning in the signal lamp, but neither the novel nor the play has been written." Then "Herbert Clarkson" wants to know if we think will ever be written. It is characteristic of some people to udge of the future by looking up preedents. They think that, as history is said to repeat itself, so does literature. They are constantly looking for some bright and shining departure in letters which shall recall the effulgence of early writers. They do not stop to think that some of these writers broke the intellectual gloom which had hung over the world since the Middle Ages. They do not consider that a light of any brilliancy whatever, shining forth from such Cimmerian darkness, would be notable. they do not reason that, as the ages recede, all the lesser tapers are obliterated, and only the master lights shine through.

Howells has written that novel. No, we do not think that Howells has written any work which all of the literary world will join in pronouncing the great American novel; nor do we believe that such a novel or such a play.

We should not look for the coming of another Shakspeare or Bacon or Milton. In the first place, the evolution of intellect does not touch at the same spot twice. In the second place, we would not know what to do with Shakspeare or Bacon or Milton if we had them today. Imagine anybody hammering out the ponderous blank verse of Paradise Lost and sending a canto or two to one of the popular magazines for publication. It would need to be accompanied with a plentiful supply of postage stamps or t would not even be returned with thanks. Imagine a full fledged Shaksperean play, without the eclat of Shakspeare's name, offered to a modern stage manager. Why, it would never get a reading!

And so every age is a law-unto itself, in literature as well as in everything else. We of the present day live in an atmosphere of diffused light. There is atmosphere of diffused light. There is no chance for a single lamp to glare and make itself notable for all time. because there are so many others that burn with almost equal brilliancy. The time has gone by for one mind to tower so far above all its fellows that it alone will be noted out of all the multitude. Hence it will be a fruitless quest to look for the great American novel or play. But we may look for an American literature which will have a character of its own—which will be polished, incisive. own-which will be polished, incisive, elegant, strong-which in its great mass and variety and general excellence will equal or excel the outgiving of any enlightened people since the world began. Toward the accomplishment of this great aggregate Howells and other writers of his stamp are contributing.

All are but parts of one stupendous whole.

Below is our critic's letter in full: Los Angeles, Aug. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Your article last Sunday [August 16] in defense and praise of Howells has reminded me that about twenty series as reminded methat about twenty years ago there was first flashed in current literature the signal for the coming of the great American novel, and the great American play. The light is still burning in the signal lamp, but neither the novel nor the play has been walcomed. At least 1 have play has been welcomed. At least I have thought so, but am moved now to ask if you consider that Howells has written that consider that Howells has written that novel; and if so, what title does it bear?

In styling Howells the Thackeray of America, I infer you intended to give him very high rank among cisatiantic writers of fiction. I judge that Mr. Howells himself would think the title no great honor, as in his recent book "Criticism and Fiction," he says "the art of fiction has declined from Jane Austen through Scott and Bulwer and Thackeray and Dickens," and adds, that since the divine Jane only Anthony Trollope has worthly worn the laurel.

I shall not indulge in a criticism of the laurei.

I shall not indulge in a criticism of the critic, at least not now, but only remark that if Mr. Howell's apotheosis of Miss Austen and tongue lashing of Sir Waiter cott and his successors are to be take Scott and his successors are to be taken seriously, we may reasonably expect a movement will be soon afoot to canonize the author of that interesting and instructive moral classic, "Sanford and Merton," HERBERT CLARKSON.

ONLY AN INTERMITTENT LAKE

So it appears, in the report of the Southern Pacific engineers, that the Salton Lake is likely to dry up before long, and as matters are now working t will be a lake only a few months of every year at the season of high water in the Colorado River. The water in Hardy's Colorado, or New River, which was reported a few days ago as flowing into the lake from the Gulf of California, was really flowing out, the report says. That dashes all prospects of a extension of the Gulf of California and a head of navigation, with a busy port, and all that sort of thing. Well we can only sigh with the poet, "It might have been." The overflow of the Salton basin, even though it prove temporary, has attracted more widespread attention than any other physical phenomenon which conventions in New York State will has ever ocurred in this corner of the country, and has emphasized the fact that, if the Government should take ern paper thinks that while it would up the enterprise in real earnest, it would be feasible to extend the waters ne, the step is by no means essential of the Gulf of California far inland. to the success of the fair. The Southern Pacific Railro d Company, it is thought, ought to take the initiative and appeal for Government aid to return the Colorado River, which is now filing the basin, back into its old channel; it is true that if the sea increases in size the company, will have to move many miles of track on its northern shores, but it would soon be repaid for all its outlay in doing soon. The desert at present is only a waste, and, beyond the working of the Liverpool and two the working of the Liverpool and the working of the lake in the Salton basin as follows:

THE Stockton Mail has a good word to say for Cardinal Manning for the position which he has taken against raffles at church fairs. "If the church is right in its generally maintained tenet that gambling of all kinds is a sin," says the Mail, "nothing could be much more absurd than its too frequent coutenance of that sort of thing in its own behalf. This thing of going to church on Sunday to hear a pastor denounce all forms of gambling as evil, and attending a fair given by himself and his church on next Wednesday evening to be earnestly solicited by some fair saintess to 'take just one chance in the oil painting, "Christ driving the money-changers out of the temple"; won't you? Do,' is not calculated to increase one's respect for the leaven of righteousness which is supposed to permeate the followers of Either the church should the Lamb. cease denouncing gambling, or it should entirely give up its own private lotteries. FIELD'S MISSION SUCCESSFUI

"From all that I can learn of Mr. Chase, which is very little, he seems to be a nice young man of the negative stamp, whose father is a private banker in Chicago. I am told that about three years ago Mr. Chase, Sr., purchssed for his son an interest in a Napa vineyard, and since that time the young fellow has resided at intervals in Napa, marrying a daughter of Lansing B. Mizuer. He probably knows a grape vine when he sees one, but this appears to be about the extent of his knowledge, and he is entirely unknown to the viticulturists of even his own district. Mr. Phelan is doing his friend anything but a kindness when he pushes forward such a Will Bring Two Hundred Indian from the South to Experiment with Them as Grape Pickers.

"I'm up here with a view of placing the Indian labor at Yuma and vicinity in your great vineyards." said D. M. Field of Yuma, Ariz., to a Fresno Republican reporter. "We have about 1500 of these red people who could be brought here and utilized on your vineyards and ranches. These comprise Yumas, Cocopans and Mojave

"In many instances these people have given better satisfaction than Chinese or white labor. For instance, the Southern Pacific employed large numbers of them at the time of the flood, and they laid two sections while the Chinese were laying one.

"In Yuma, a town of 700 people there are seven salcons. In these sa-lcons these Indians are employed as janitors.— They come to the pro-prietor in the morning, get the keys, open the place, sweep and dust it, have the freest access to the liquor, yet are never drunk, nor have I ever heard one accused of dishonesty. The Indians bottle all the wine that comes to Yuma in casks, yet in my eight years' residence there I have never seen adunken Indian. "We work them on steamers, in

"They dig wells, harrow, cultivate, make fences, lay side walks and do anything that a white man can do. If they can do all these things, they can they can do all these things they can pick grapes. They will get the hang of it as quickly as the Chinese and will be better liked. THEIR COST.

"It is our purpose to bring these Indians here at once, work them throughout the season and then take them home. They would not come under any other conditions. They have been as far north as Los Angeles, hop picking, but to come here would be quite trip for them.
"What would they work for? Well,

I think they can be delivered here, including transportation both ways and covering all expenses, at about $1.35 a day. The cost a day shall not exceed that to any one who employs them and they will give better satisfaction than a Chinaman at $1.75. "These Indians, too, would leave half their earnings here, which the Chinese laborer looks out not to do. They are very fond of 'store things.'

I find they could get these here for about half of what they would have to pay down there, and you let the Indian alone for finding that out. He is a close buyer and soon learns where he can drive the best bargains. They are great sugar eaters—sugar and water melons. Of the latter they never tire. "We will bring men mainly, but about 25 per cent. of squaws. The presence of squaws will hold them together better and they will cook and mend for them and make things more homelike. Then the squaws will be found useful in the fields, also.

PARTIALLY CIVILIZED. "There are many false notions extant concerning these Indians," continued Mr. Field. "They are as far from the Digger ideal as is possible. An erring soul is wanting drink, and the first of the fir making their living by tilling the soil. We will bring no old men or cripples here, no opium smokers or lepers, but here, no optum smokers or lepers, but strong, stalwart, strapping fellows, young and athletic and bouncing, healthy squaws. They will compare with any labor you have ever had, save the Caucasian, who is the best work-man on earth, when he is willing."

When the people of California were unanimous in presenting the name of J. de Barth Shorb and he being supported by the strongest indorsements any man could have received. Director-General Davis stated strongest indorsements any man could have received. Director-General Davis stated that he had received serious charges against Mr. Shorb. When Senator Stewart and others made a personal demand that these charges be made known, Davis stated in their presence that there was sothing in his possession prejudical to Mr. Shorb. He has further stated that he regards him in every way eminently fitted for the position. He had seen fit, however, to ignore California in toto by the appointment of Samueis, and tried to force his confirmation, and in a coding stated that he did not wish to do anything antagonizing Mr. de Young. #### THE SOLDIER BOYS.

THE CLOSING SCENES AT CAMP JOHNSON.

Several Hours Given over to Fun and Frolic-Large Crowd Present to Witness the

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the soldiers at Camp Johnson began to pack up, and from that hour up to the departure of the 11:35 train, the camp-ground and town was a scene of bustle and activity.

As rigid camp discipline had been sus-pended, the boys turned themselves loose The following for fun, and they had lots of it. It was a veritable "pent-up Utica," bursting beyond its bounds. Every conceivable device was Aliance: resorted to to add to the merriment. The resorted to to add to the merriment. The most formidable demonstration was that of most parade; Col. most formidable demonstration was that of a mock parade; Col. Schreiberl headed the drum corps and Lieut. Steere led the bugiers. Of course everybody fell into line, and for a time it seemed as if pandemonium had turned loose.

In the meantime packing continued, and the boys played all sorts of tricks upon each other.

During the hurrah Sergt. Dickerson, chief bugier, fell and seriously injured his knee on a stake. Upon inquiring as to the other casualties, one soldier semarked that a comrade had cut his thumb in ovening a beer bottle. These are all the mishaps. Outside of a few sorcheads, that can be found in every crowd, the soldiers have every reason to carry with them a pleasant recollection of their encampment at Santa Monica. The arrangements were carried out fairly on both sides, if a few minor details are excepted, that were unavoidable. The people at Santa Monica made every effort to render it pleasant for the soldiers and their visiting friends, and the other side recognized the hospitality extended them in a very cordial manner.

Last evening Coroner Weldon held an inquest at the undertaking rooms of Hopkins, Coussen & Cunningham, on Main street, on the body of John M. Davis, who was found dead in bed at the New England lodging-house Sunday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes. The deceased was a native of Ohio, formerly a veteran of the Thirty-sixth Ohio Volunteers (the famous regiment at one time commanded by Col.George Crook.) No valuables were found on the person of the deceased, but his honorable discharge and his pension papers were found in his valise. As the deceased has no relatives in this section, the G.A.R. will attend to the funeral arrangements.

The charge of assault was to have been tried yesterday, but went over until tod y.

Detectives Auble and Bowler have been busy looking up evidence against Morros, and this morning another complaint for assault will be filed against chim. There is no telling how many women the unspeakable wretch has insulted on the streets, for the reason that many will not say anything the reason that many will not say easy anything for fear of notoriety. As it is, enough has been secured to insure his conviction, and he will doubtless be given the full limit of the law.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly re-view of the English grain tradesays: "The recent rains have caused tremendous damage not only to standing crops but to stacks that are not yet thatched. Altogether, the encampment passed off with as few jars as occur on any occasion when so many people come together. It has been a drawing card for Santa Monica, and the people hope it will be selected as a permanent camping-ground as the years roll by. When the train left at 11:30 there was a large crowd at the depot to bid the soldiers good-bye, but as the boys were not going out to engage in real battle, there was no occasion for any tears and heartaches. The affinites can easily drift togother again at an early day.

The soldiers arrived in the city about 12:30 o'clock, and spent the time until the departure of the San Diego train in looking about the city. All expressed themselves as well pleased with the week spent at Camp Johnson.

Ohio Man and the Presidency.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

Senator Pugh of Alabama is undoubtedly safe in saying that if Campbell carries Ohio this year he will be the bell carries Onloths year he will be the Presidential nominee of his party in 1892. All the Democratic aspirants for the Presidential office have reached this conclusion by this time. On the other hand, if McKinley wins, and we think he will, he will be the biggest figure in the kepublican National convention next year if Blaine declines the nomination. It is the consequences in nomination. It is the consequences in national politics dependent on the re-sult in Ohio in 1891 which makes the present canvass in that State so interesting to the country.

Mrs. Lelia Robinson Sawtelle, who died at Amerest, N. H., recently, and who was formerly Boston correspondent of the Bee, is referred to by the Stockton Independent as a "lawyeress." So she was, but she was also a writeress, a correspondentess, a reporteress, at one time, quite proficient as a talkeress, and is said to have been no slouch of a doctoress, besides being a capable stenographeress, a clever cookess and a teachess of no mean ability. As she was a good and true maness, it is to be hoped that she is now an angeless.

BRUNER TO THE FRONT.

A. W. Bruner, the agent of the Southern Pacific at Riverside, who is now enjoying a vacation in the East, came out very creditably in a challenge shooting match in Chicago with Elliott, champion wing shot of the United States. They shot a match of ifty birds, singles, on Elliott's grounds in Chicago, the score being; Elliott, 7; Bruner, 44. The grounds are lanting and hard for a stranger to tarn. Bruner has challenged Elliott a shoot at 100 birds, single, to take ace at San Francisco in September, the State shoot, for $100 a side uner is a fine shot, and goes under e cognomen of Wiley. CITY BRIEFS.

There was the usually good order at the seaside on Sunday. The only commotion was created by a couple of "Japs" whom the boys tossed into the surf, They engaged in a frantic effort to state their grievances to an officer who found it impossible to get into the state of their story. They left breathing out threatenings against our fair city.

Oranges in Paraguay.

To show the abundance of oranges in Paraguay, Mr. Theodore Childs, writing recently in Harper's Magazine, cites the case of a plantation owned by an Englishman where there are 20,000 orange trees, but for want of means of transportation the fruit has no market value. "Under the trees the oranges lie on the ground a foot deep, and the cattle eat them and fatten well." As the people have oranges in this abundance and a plenty of mandioca, too, "they need not work, and they will not work."

The Southern Pacific Steamers-New Schedule of Wages on the Southern California-General and Personal.

It is stated that an agreement between the Santa Fé and Southern Pacific Com panies binds the former to give eighteen months' notice to the latter of any inten tion to build new track north of Mojave. This agreement is made part of the co tract under which the Southern Pacific permits the running of Santa Fé cars over the road between Mojave and San Francisco. On account of the existence of this agreement the movements of the promoters of the new competing line through the San Joaquin Valley are kept in the dark as much as possible. Though it begins to look as if the Southern Pacific will be paralas if the Southern Pacific will be paralleled it is not certain that the Santa Fé is engaged in the exploitation of the new road. It is more likely that a separate corporation will construct the road, but that it is destined to become a Santa Fé line by some process of absorption no one can doubt.

When asked what the meaning was of the removal of the steamships of his company from the Gaiveston route, as indicated in a dispatch from Gaiveston, Third Vice-President Stubbs of the Seuthern Pacific said that it was merely because of the closing of the cotton freightage season. Next season the steamers will run as before. The fact that the steamship business of the company was centered at New Orleans was merely in keeping with the exigencies of the guiftrade.

The surveying party of the Penisula Railroad Company at work on the upper end of the line has run against a serious piece of business in the form of a well-nigh impassable cañon, situated just this side of the valley of the Palms, about eighteen miles south of Tia Juana, The chief engineer says that in all probapility this is the most difficult work that will be experienced on the entire line. The cañon is eight miles long, and it is estimated that it will take ten days to complete the survey through to the other side.
